WORKSHOPS & PERFORMANCE

Up to two playwrights will be chosen to participate in play development workshops and script-in-hand readings at the Texas Thespian Festival.

The playwright and actors will collaborate with a director and dramaturg; the emphasis will be on bringing the play to life on stage with minimal production elements and on strengthening the script through rewrites.

The student playwrights will be part of the production team, as they observe the reading, consult with their dramaturgs, receive and provide feedback, and work on revisions.

They will work with pre-festival casting from their own school or surrounding area.

The process will culminate in readings of the script, or portions of them, before a Thespian Festival audience, followed by an audience talk-back.
